Processing bulk solids is our business: Drying, mixing, granulation, melting, heating, cooling, wetting and much more. A team of experienced specialists designs, develops and supplies equipment, systems and modules for your process requirements.

EKATO SOLIDMIX was created in 1996 as a business unit of EKATO Rühr- und Mischtechnik GmbH and combines over 80 years of experience in mixing technology with the know-how of EKATO SYSTEMS plant engineering. EKATO SOLIDMIX offers its customers in the chemical, pharmaceutical, food and environmental industries:

- Competent process engineering advice
- Pilot-plant testing and reliable scale-up to commercial dimensions
- Design, manufacture and supply of mixing and drying systems
- Installation, commissioning and after-sales service guaranteed by a worldwide field engineering network
